

One Source for Asset Protection
Solutions®

Human Rights and Labor Practices Policy

REVISED 8-31-2022 Version 2.0

Table of Contents

Purpose and Summary	3
Scope.....	3
Policy	3
Framework and Principles	3
Risk Assessment, Prevention, and Remediation.....	4
Non-Discriminatory Treatment and Anti-Harassment.....	4
Workplace Health and Safety	4
Minimum Wages.....	5
No Child Labor	5
Voluntary Employment.....	5
Freedom of Association	5
Anti-Slavery and Human Trafficking	6
Reporting and Whistleblowing	6
Document Management.....	7

PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

At MISTRAS Group (“The Company”), respect for human rights is deeply ingrained in our values, in how we run our business, interact with stakeholders, and engage with our global community. We value diversity and equal opportunity and do not tolerate discrimination or harassment of any kind.

MISTRAS is committed to our employees, customers, future generations, and the communities where we live and work. This policy – the Human Rights and Labor Practices Policy – communicates our expectations with respect to human rights, labor practices and the high standard of conduct expected of our employees worldwide. This includes, but is not limited to, ethical and lawful practices concerning discrimination, workplace health and safety, security arrangements, freedom of association, collective bargaining, child labor, women’s rights, human trafficking, water rights, forced or compulsory labor, and indigenous rights.

SCOPE

This policy applies globally to all MISTRAS employees (full-time and part-time) and contingent workforce, including consultants, temporary workers, partner’s, and third-party vendors engaged on our behalf. In conjunction with this policy, we provide training to employees on human rights and labor practices.

POLICY

MISTRAS adheres to the highest ethical conduct as outlined in the MISTRAS Code of Conduct in all aspects of business including health and safety, discrimination and harassment, confidentiality, data privacy, anti-corruption, protection and proper use of Company Assets. MISTRAS operates on our foundational core values of safety and health stewardship, customer satisfaction, and our employees followed by enhancing shareholders value.

MISTRAS has involved key members of management in the development, implementation, and evaluations of effective outcomes of this policy. MISTRAS Group respects fundamental human rights and views them as a key component of responsible corporate citizenship.

FRAMEWORK AND PRINCIPLES

MISTRAS Group aims to abide by and uphold the principles of the Corporate Responsibility to Respect Human Rights that are part of the United Nations “Protect, Respect and Remedy framework.” MISTRAS also recognizes the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights as the global standard for identifying, preventing, and addressing the risk of adverse impacts on human and labor rights linked to our business activity.

RISK ASSESSMENT, PREVENTION, AND REMEDIATION

It is the responsibility of management to be alert to any potential violations and to ensure compliance with this policy. If a potential violation arises, then the manager must promptly notify our Corporate legal department and/or their Human Resources representative.

Our board level Audit Committee receives periodic reports from management regarding our efforts to monitor and control any major risks. Audit Committee responsibilities also include monitoring the Company's processes and policies regarding compliance with laws and regulations. The Audit Committee reports to the Board periodically of any significant matters that come to its attention. It is the ultimate responsibility of the senior management to assess and manage any exposure to risk associated with human and labor rights.

Should MISTRAS identify any risk of contributing to an adverse impact in the area of human or labor rights, it will take the necessary steps to cease or prevent its contribution and use its leverage with internal and external business networks to mitigate any remaining impacts to the greatest extent possible.

By doing so, and in accordance with its core business, MISTRAS pays special attention to international labor standards such as:

- Harassment-free workplace
- Safety – Safe and healthy work environment for employees, customers and visitors
- Payment of minimum wages
- Workplace Accommodation
- Women's Rights
- Employment at Will
- Voluntary employment
- Business ethics
- Job-related training and certification

NON-DISCRIMINATORY TREATMENT AND ANTI-HARASSMENT

We are committed to an inclusive workplace environment free from acts of discrimination and harassment. MISTRAS strives to make all employment decisions based on job-related qualifications without regard to race, color, sex, age, disability, medical condition, physical appearance, marital status, national origin, ancestry, alienage, citizenship status, pregnancy, ethnicity, religion/creed, disability, genetic information, gender (including gender identity or gender expression, or status as a transgender person), sexual orientation, military or veteran status, familial status, status as a victim of domestic violence, stalking or sex offenses, or any other category protected by applicable law ("protected characteristics").

WORKPLACE HEALTH AND SAFETY

We are committed to the health and safety of our employees, per our Workplace Health and Safety Standards and Global Workplace Anti-Violence policies. We maintain a global program of regular education, emergency response planning and training to ensure individuals are equipped to identify and manage potential risks in our office workplaces.

SECURITY ARRANGEMENTS

We believe in maintaining the safety and security of our operations, employees and contractors within an operating framework that ensures respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms. With that when we work in areas that may require security arrangements, we use an internal risk assessment tool to determine the nature and scope of the security arrangement that it is proportional to the threat. We believe a disproportional security arrangement increases the risk of conflicts which could lead to human rights abuses or violations. Company security risk assessments consider the areas required in the Voluntary Principles of Security and Human Rights, including: identification of security risks; potential for violence in the operating environment; human rights records of public security forces, paramilitaries, local and national law enforcement; rule of law in country; conflict analysis and human rights risk in regard to equipment transfers. We continually monitor, assess, and update our risk assessments as new facts and information become available in order to safeguard our employees and our assets, to the best of our ability.

MINIMUM WAGES

We comply with local minimum wages. We use market and industry standards to apply fair wages where no wage law is in existence.

NO CHILD LABOR

We abide by local minimum age laws and do not use or condone child labor in any circumstance.

WOMENS RIGHTS

We believe these are critical to the protection and promotion of women's human rights. At MISTRAS we believe in the fair and equitable treatment of all individuals regardless of gender, race, religion, sexual orientation, etc. We believe that women's rights is a critical aspect to the fair treatment of all and commit to fair labor practices to promote and enhance women's rights.

WATER RIGHTS

At MISTRAS we believe the right to water is a fundamental human right and we work to the best of our ability to ensure that safe, clean water is available to all employees in locations in which they operate.

VOLUNTARY EMPLOYMENT

We do not use forced or compulsory labor. All employment is voluntary.

FREEDOM OF ASSOCIATION

We respect the right of our employees to freely participate in labor unions, or choose not to participate, and the right to collectively bargain, in accordance with local law.

ANTI-SLAVERY AND HUMAN TRAFFICKING

Modern slavery is a crime and a violation of fundamental human rights. It takes various forms, such as slavery, servitude, forced and compulsory labor, and human trafficking, all of which have in common the deprivation of a person's liberty by another for personal or commercial gain.

MISTRAS has a zero-tolerance approach to modern slavery, and we are committed to acting ethically and with integrity in all our business dealings and relationships by implementing and enforcing effective systems and controls to ensure modern slavery is not taking place anywhere in our own business or at a client location.

We are also committed to ensuring there is transparency in our own business and in our approach to tackling modern slavery throughout our supply chains, consistent with our disclosure obligations under the all anti-slavery laws. We provide training on our human trafficking and slavery policy to our employees and management through the organization including those with direct responsibility for supply chain management.

We expect the same high standards from all our contractors, suppliers and other business partners, and as part of our contracting processes, we require commitments against the use of forced, compulsory or trafficked labor, or anyone held in slavery or servitude, whether adults or children, and we expect that our suppliers will hold their own suppliers to the same high standards.

We prohibit trafficking of all persons in a range of exploitative practices, as defined by the United Nations Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights.

REPORTING AND WHISTLEBLOWING

MISTRAS encourages all its employees to report any acts or information they may witness or of which they become aware which involve violations of human rights, including any of the matters enumerated in this policy. Any person reporting any such matter or participating in any investigation of any such matter will be protected by MISTRAS' anti-retaliation policy.

